

Feedback Analysis Report
 School: School of Basic Sciences & Research
 Department : Department of Chemistry & Biochemistry
 Program name: M.Sc. Chemistry
 Program code: SBR0101
 Academic Year:2020-21

(This format is placed before the Departmental Academic Committee & the Board of Studies dated 15.05.2021)

Stakeholder	Response	Scale	Feedback Questions Average							Suggestions by Stakeholders in Feedback
			Q1	Q2	Q3	Q4	Q5	Q6	Q7
Faculty	10	Excellent	80%	50%	40%	50%				1. MCH231: Syllabus is appropriate for both academic and industry needs. 2. MCH235 : Syllabus is good for preparation of NET and GATE exams 3. MCH273: More instrument based practicals should be incorporated. 4. MCE204: Modification in course of Science and Technology of Nanomaterials has been discussed was approved.
		V. Good	20%	50%	60%	40%
		Good				10%
		Fair
		Poor
Student	23	Excellent	50%	53.84%					1. Well designed syllabus, vividly applicable, increase in quality of education so we can qualify national level exams. 2. Should ask for feedback once in week to keep on updating how the curriculum is going on 3. It would have been better if we were given practical experience about all the theory classes.
		V. Good	26.19%	30.76%

NOTE : For questions refer to Annexure A

Feedback Analysis: (Few lines)

- 1 Faculty feedback is satisfactory.
- 2 Feedback on curriculum has been observed to lie on the satisfactory weightage scale. Suggestions have been given to modify the paper of Science & Technology of nanomaterials.
- 3 Feedback on curriculum is satisfactory.
- 4 Satisfactory feedback on curricula was received from industry experts
- 5
