SECTION B: Event report and reflection

Event objectives –

Shilpi Sinha

Was to give students an exposure to myriads of building techniques and architectural styles. The students could learn various possibilities if being an environmentally sensitive designer in a hands on workshop with Vinu Daniel, an architect with international acclaim of designing extraordinary buildings using waste and scrap and without disturbing the ecosystem of the existing site.

1. Event description:

The RSP covered three states in Kerala. They visited Padmanabhaswamy Temple in Trivandrum at 5:00 am, marvelling the woodwork at Padmanabhapuram palace in Tamil Nadu, sketching at Laurie Baker Centre in Trivandrum, hands-on workshop with architect Vinu Daniel in Adoor, an interactive session with Architect Krishnan Varma at his home studio in Kochi and heritage walk of Kochi fort area with Saumya Joseph, a Sharda University alumnus. Students were also guided to make reflective journals recording their learnings in form of sketches, photos and textual notes by Delhi based interior architect, Vanya Verma.

The students imbibed the local culture, tried the local cuisines, had engaging conversations with friendly locals, met successful architects who are using local and waste materials and designing cost effective, experiential spaces. Also, they had fun at Kovalam and Varkaka beach, shopped at Lulu mall, asia's biggest mall, enjoyed coffee at Laurie Baker's Indian coffee house, visited a synagogue for the first time and also attended 12am mass in a church of Kochi on Christmas Eve
