About the Event (Brief description)	Social science deals with the study of society and the relationship among individuals within society. Social science research provides authentic information to the people that are scientifically proven so that end users can rely upon it. Research can find answers to things that are unknown, filling gaps in knowledge. It is essential to develop a sound methodological base of research among the researchers to cope up with challenges in the field of research. A good research methodology is a key to sound research output. Digital social research methods offer a renewed way to understand what is data. The practice of digital research challenges us not only to adapt to new research methods, to 'develop analytic categories that allow us to capture the complex imbrications of technology and society'.
Notes, Highlights & dialogs with speaker	What is research? Why do people do research? Who does research? Where to meet researchers? When can an individual begin research? How to begin Research? – Notice which subjects interest you, note which topic intrigues you, read published articles on the topic, prepare notes, discuss with teachers of that subject, write to people working in the field etc.
